- (56) Floor Reading Lamp $169.00
This lamp replicates daylight as only a fluorescent can, providing the kind of color-true light that artists look for. It lights smoothly, without flickering, and has an unusual feature for a fluorescent: a full dimmer so that you can moderate the light. Having this like-daylight light helps ease the strain on your eyes if you use them for close work or for long periods. the flex neck moves all around so that you can direct it where you most need it. A very heavy base prevents the floor lamp from tipping, and the attractive brushed brass finish coordinates with any decor. The lamp is fully assembled and instructions for care are included. A spare bulb is also included. A Levenger product

(257) water dispenser$90.00

Polar MAXXPlus Water Dispenser, made by Greenway Home Products, dispenses room temperature, cold or hot water with the simple push of the appropriately marked button. The hot water is heated to approximately 194 degrees Fahrenheit. To prevent the hot water from accidentally harming a small child, the hot water dispenser button has a safety switch on it. Simply slide the switch to the left and push the button in to dispense hot water. The cold water dispenses at a temperature of 50 degrees Fahrenheit. The Unit uses 3 or 5 gallon bottled water bottles (not included) which can be purchased at many department stores. It features 3 different illuminated "Ready to Dispense" indicators : GREEN indicates the unit is on; RED means the hot water has reached its optimum temperature and is ready for dispensing and BLUE which means the cold water has reached its optimum temperature and is ready for dispensing. Hot and cold power switches are located on the rear of the dispenser along with an adjustable thermostat for cold water. A removable drip tray allows for easy cleaning. It even features a night light for those times when you need a refreshing drink during the night or when the unit is placed in low-light areas. The unit is constructed of molded plastic which makes it light-weight and easy to move. It can be placed on the floor or table. The outside of the dispenser can be wiped clean with a mild soap and water solution.
